Winter Issue

“We are more than our four walls!”

Pumerantz Library is also in the community! The Harriet K. & Philip Pumerantz Library supports the city of Pomona by working with Pomona Public Library on various projects. The library has been working with the Pomona Public Library to promote reading in the local community, beginning in 2010 with the Big Read and the Ray Bradbury presentation.

Continuing this year with Together We Read, the libraries have hosted an event using our web conference tools to have a conversation with Isabel Allende, the author of Zorro, on November 1, 2012. We hope you were able to come, attend the discussions and enjoy yourself.

- Frances Chu MSN, MLIS
“Paleo CSI” Exhibit at the Library

The Pumerantz Library is currently hosting the “Paleo CSI” Exhibit, which focuses on the research by the anatomy department faculty at WesternU: Dr. Elizabeth Rega, Dr. Brian Kraatz, Dr. Amy Chew, Dr. Matthew Wedel and Dr. Gerald Bales. Items on display include a black bear and coyote skull, tools used by paleontologists, fossil of an oreodont in a plaster jacket on loan from the Raymond M. Alf Museum of Paleontology and a 68-65 million year old triceratops fossil that you can touch! You are invited to view the exhibit anytime during library hours and attend our upcoming speaker series.

Our first speaker will be Dr. Amy Chew presenting “Mammal paleontology in Wyoming’s Bighorn Basin” at 5:00 pm on Thursday, January 31, 2013.

Special thanks to everyone who came out and made Family Fun Day at the Pumerantz Library a success!
Featured Database

Do you want to know who has been citing your published work?
Try using Web of Science’s (WoS) Cited Reference Search. By using cited reference search you can get a snapshot of who has cited your article since publication. You can also set up a citation alert to inform you when more authors cite your work. To search in WoS Cited Reference Search you will need three pieces of information from your article; author, journal title, year. Also, any article discovered in WoS is exportable to your EndNote library using one click.

Need some space to study with a small group or to work on a collaborative project?
Would you rather have a quiet personal study space? Pumerantz Library has both to accommodate your study needs and with wireless access throughout the library, ready access to online resources is available using your laptops or tablets. To reserve a room, use the online reservation calendar to book a room 24 hours in advance, or call 909-469-5323 for assistance.

Do you have a quick question or need assistance in finding information – Ask a Librarian!

You can renew your books online or order books from other libraries using our Camino system.
A FEW NEW BOOKS...

Top 10 e-Books

1. Cardiovascular Physiology (Mohrman)
2. Harrison’s Online
3. Current Medical Diagnosis and Treatment (CMDT)
4. Tintinalli’s Emergency Medicine
5. Pharmacotherapy: A Pathophysiologic Approach (DiPiro)
6. Gray’s Anatomy (Standring)
7. Current Diagnosis and Treatment: Pediatrics
8. Symptom to Diagnosis: An Evidence Based Guide
9. Epidemiology (Gordis)
10. Medical Physiology: A Cellular and Molecular Approach (Boron)

Top 10 e-Journals

1. ACP Journal Club
2. Evidence-Based Medicine
3. Journal of Veterinary Internal Medicine
4. Journal of Small Animal Practice
5. The New England Journal of Medicine
6. Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association
7. The Veterinary Clinics of North America: Small Animal Practice
8. Veterinary Surgery
10. Clinics in Podiatric Medicine and Surgery